2. TIN description

Denmark issues TINs (CPR-numbers), which are reported on official documents of identification.

The Central Office of Civil Registration is located under the Ministry of Interior and Health. This office is in charge of the Danish Civil Registration System (CRS) and functions as the main supplier of basic personal information to public authorities and the private sector.

In the Danish CPR-system, a civil registry number is allocated to any person who:

1. is nationally registered in Denmark on the grounds of birth or relocation from abroad;
2. is included under the Danish Labour Market Supplementary Pension Fund (ATP);
3. according to the tax authorities, must have such a number for the purpose of having tax affairs handled in Denmark.

The TIN is unique to the person and thus functions as identification of each individual. Almost the entire public administrations use the identification number, to avoid duplicating registrations and to avoid errors in respect of a person's identity. The use of the identity number also facilitates the collaboration between the Central Office of Civil Registration and the public authorities receiving data from the CRS.
