Reproduction of the content and information presented in the Luxembourg pages and maintained by the Luxembourg State or other parties is, unless otherwise indicated, subject to Luxembourg law.

Unless specified otherwise, reproduction of the information contained in the Luxembourg pages of the European TIN Portal is authorised for non-commercial purposes provided the source is expressly cited.

Where prior authorisation is required for reproducing or using text-based or multimedia information (sounds, images, software, etc.), that stipulation cancels the general authorisation, and will, if need be, indicate any restriction on use.

The Luxembourg State declines to accept any liability regarding the use of the information contained in the Luxembourg pages of the European TIN Portal. It should be noted that the information published on the European TIN Portal is not necessarily complete, exhaustive, exact or up to date. Should there be discrepancies between the texts published in these pages and the original documents, the original documents, as published in the Mémorial, are applicable.

The Luxembourg State's pages refer sometimes to pages maintained by other parties over which the Luxembourg State has no control and in respect of which it declines to accept any liability.

The Luxembourg State accepts no liability for any prejudice caused to the user's computer facility by the use of pages maintained by the Luxembourg State or others.

The Luxembourg State declines to accept any liability in the event of the service provided by these pages being suspended, even temporarily.

It is not the purpose of these disclaimers of liability to circumvent the requirements of the applicable legislation, or to exclude liability in cases in which it cannot be excluded under the aforesaid legislation.
